Dear Tim and Brad,

We have been patiently and in good faith trying for years to resolve Google's infringement of Sonos's intellectual property. Despite Sonos's openness and willingness to further engage, our discussions have never meaningfully progressed. Over this extended time, Google has only increased the scope of its infringement. We are now going to seek resolution through the courts.

As a courtesy, attached please find copies of complaints that we will file Tuesday, January 7, 2020 in the Central District of California and the United States International Trade Commission. Sonos has focused on Google's willful infringement of U.S. Patents Nos. 8,588,949, 9,195,258, 9,219,959, 10,209,953, and 10,439,896 though, as we have discussed, Google infringes many more of Sonos's patents.

We are hopeful that Google will reconsider its infringement and refusal to meaningfully engage in a serious discussion.

Best,

Alaina Kwasizur
